Foundation Opportunities

Economic Isolation. The Hitachi Foundation makes grants to enhance opportunity and quality of life for economically isolated people through business-community partnerships. Support is provided for partnerships that enable economically isolated people to retain and advance in their jobs, earn living wages, and accumulate savings and assets. Applications are by invitation only; however, nonprofit organizations are invited to submit online inquiries. For further information, go to:

<http://www.hitachifoundation.org/>.

Nutrition. The Allen Foundation supports human nutrition programs in the areas of health, education, training, and research. Preference is given to projects that train children and young adults to improve their health and development or that educate mothers during and after pregnancy to foster good nutritional habits. Eligible applicants include nonprofit organizations. The deadline for applications is December 31, 2004. For further information and to access the online application, go to:

<http://www.allenfoundation.org/default.asp>.

Relatives as Parents. The Brookdale Foundation is seeking proposals for its Relatives as Parents Program (RAPP). The program is designed to encourage and promote the creation or expansion of services for grandparents and other relatives who have taken on the responsibility of surrogate parenting when biological parents are unwilling or unable to do so. Eligible applicants include nonprofit organizations. The deadline for applications is January 15, 2005. Matching support is required. Selected organizations will receive mini-grants of $10,000 over a two-year period ($6,000 and $4,000 respectively). On-going technical assistance will also be provided. For further information, go to:

<http://www.brookdalefoundation.org/>.

Social Change. The Abelard Foundation supports organizations that reflect the communities in which they are based; expand community control over economic, social, and environmental decisions affecting the community's well-being; and build a strong informed voice on public policy issues. Eligible applicants include nonprofit organizations with annual budgets under $400,000. There are no deadlines for applications for organizations east of the Mississippi. General support grants range from $6,000-$12,000. For further information and to access the online application, go to:

<http://www.commoncounsel.org/pages/foundation.html>.

Youth Nutrition and Fitness. The General Mills Foundation encourages communities in the U.S. to improve the eating and physical activity patterns of young people, ages 2-20. Eligible applicants include nonprofit organizations and agencies working with communities that demonstrate the greatest need and likelihood of sustainable impact on young people's nutrition and activity levels through innovative programs. The deadline for applications is February 1, 2005. Up to 50 grants of $10,000 each are available. For further information, go to:

FUNDING ALERT

The Public Education Network (PEN) is soliciting views from community members on NCLB through a series of state hearings and focus groups, as well as an online survey. These efforts are designed to identify the extent to which NCLB is providing adequate resources, improving teaching and learning, delivering targeted services, and enhancing the public's confidence in schools and the national education system. To participate in PEN's short online survey, go to:

<http://www.givekidsgoodschools.org/>.

Grants Information Resource Center (GIRC).

The Mayor's Office of Partnerships and Grants Development (OPGD) provides assistance to nonprofit and government representatives through a resource center at One Judiciary Square, 441 4th Street, NW, Suite 200 South. The primary focus of the GIRC is to assist emerging and small nonprofits that either lack computer access or the knowledge to best use their existing computer technology to identify grant, capacity building, and other related resource information online. Featured in the GIRC are four workstations with funding research databases and access to the Internet. The Center also has a small library of printed materials. Access to the GIRC is free of charge but requires an appointment. Call (202) 727-8900 to schedule an appointment.

Learn About Foundations. The Foundation Center announces a new e-learning course designed for anyone who wants to learn more about foundations, their giving, and their role in philanthropy and the nonprofit sector. Foundations and Their Role in Philanthropy is an interactive course that will cover such topics as: what private foundations are; how they are different from other philanthropic organizations; and what they do, and how they do it. To access this free course, go to:

http://fdncenter.org/learn/classroom/ft_tutorial/index.html. For further information on other online tutorials, go to the virtual classroom in the Learning Lab at the Foundation Center's website: <http://fdncenter.org/learn/classroom/index.jhtml>.
